

BEYOND THE KINGDOM — Episode #0004: Media & Fan Layer

Companion to Script #BTK-0004 · Air Date: Thursday, January 6, 2005

News, gossip, and the 2005 internet from Thursday to the early hours of Friday, before anyone knows what happened on Metropolitan Parkway.

THE ATLANTA SENTINEL — Friday, January 7, 2005 · Home Edition · 50¢

(Went to press at 11:30 PM Thursday.)

METRO · B1

NEW DA REVIVES COLD CASE UNIT: '640 FAMILIES ARE WAITING'

Cummings restaffs long-dormant unit; four investigators start Monday

By Tamara Ellison, Courts Reporter

Fulton County District Attorney Arianna Cummings, sworn in last Saturday, has restaffed the county's long-dormant Cold Case Unit with four veteran investigators, her office confirmed Thursday.

The unit had been reduced to "two investigators and a closet" under former DA Lawrence Tate, according to a staff memo obtained by the Sentinel. It holds 640 unsolved homicides and missing-person cases dating back to 1998.

"Every family who's been waiting will get a phone call by the end of the month," Cummings said in a brief statement. "Waiting is the cruelest sentence there is."

Among the families who met with the DA on Thursday, according to courthouse staff, was the family of Darnell Divine, a Cascade Heights barber missing since New Year's Eve 2001.

MORTICIAN SERVES COFFEE TO POLICE STAKEOUT

'Nothing to hide,' says Merriweather

By Marcus Webb, Staff Writer

Plainclothes officers posted outside Merriweather & Sons Funeral Home on Ralph David Abernathy Boulevard received an unexpected delivery Thursday morning: two cups of coffee and a dozen cream-filled doughnuts, courtesy of the owner.

"Mr. Merriweather has nothing to hide and nobody to fear except whoever killed Lamar Whitlock," said an employee who made the delivery. APD declined to comment on the surveillance, or on the doughnuts.

BUSINESS · D1

Thursday's closing prices (publicly traded Donohue affiliates):

Ticker	Company	Close	Change
DFN	Donohue Financial	$185.70	-0.2%
DNRG	Donohue Energy	$97.20	+0.3%
DPHR	Donohue Pharmaceuticals	$144.10	+0.5%
DTEC	Donohue Technologies	$62.05	-0.6%

Analysts attributed the modest gain in Donohue Pharmaceuticals, which includes the company's Health & Beauty division, to "unconfirmed chatter" about a revival of the heritage Toussaint skincare line.

LIVING · "BEHIND THE GATES" by Bernadette Sinclair

A Quiet Thursday? Not on the Summit, darlings.

- Two young ladies with a very famous last name were seen carrying wicker baskets full of tiny glass jars into a certain Creole-yellow house on Thursday afternoon. They left an hour later with something green and leather-bound held like a newborn. A beauty venture is afoot. You heard it here first.
 - A certain Chairman was seen leaving his office at 7:40 PM rubbing his neck. Sources on the Summit tell me he spent Wednesday night on a Chesterfield sofa in his own library. Forty-five years of marriage, and the man is sleeping with Tolstoy. I'm told the pajamas were pressed.
 - And the new District Attorney, only 22, met privately with a missing man's family for nearly an hour on Thursday morning. Courthouse staff say the family's mother walked out and told a clerk, "That's a real person." In this town, darlings, that's a rave review.
-

CRESTWATCH — crestwatch.blogspot.com

"All the news the gates keep out."

Thursday, January 06, 2005 — 11:14 PM

THE GREEN BOOK HAS LEFT THE BUILDING

CrestWatchers, old-timers on the Summit have whispered about "the green book" for fifty years. The Queen Mother's original formulas. Kept in her apron pocket until 1970. Then in a safe.

Today, it walked out of the Dowager House in the arms of two great-granddaughters.

We're told the words "Beat the Smilleys" were spoken. Out loud. In front of a federal judge.

Also:

- Night one of the Chairman's library exile is confirmed. Night two begins tomorrow. We'll be counting.
- A certain CEO asked a certain housekeeper a certain question in a certain kitchen tonight. The housekeeper, we're told, "went back to her onions." Loyal to the end.
- Over at the château, a certain two-year-old was heard at 9:20 PM singing "Crown Me" at the top of her lungs. Somebody tell Grace Bullock she's got a fan across the ravine. ;)

Posted by CrestWatch at 11:14 PM · 88 comments

PeachStateTea said... BEAT THE SMILLEYS. put it on a t-shirt, i'll buy 10

ChiTownDiva said... a smiley baby singing a donohue song... that's the most atlanta thing i ever heard

KingdomKween404 said... the chairman in the LIBRARY Imaooo joan donohue does not play

CrestWatch said... Nobody on the Summit plays, darling. They just keep score. :-*

"FIND DEE" — finddee.livejournal.com

Thursday, January 6th, 2005 — 9:48 pm

Current mood: overwhelmed

Current music: nothing. just quiet.

I met with the District Attorney today.

Mama came with me, straight off a twelve-hour shift. I brought the binder. She'd already read the file before we got there. At seven in the morning.

She told us a detective wrote "no leads" after NINE DAYS. Nine days, y'all. We've been looking for three years.

Then I pushed a flyer across her desk and said everybody else stopped looking, and she said, "I won't stop."

She broke a pen. She was holding it under the desk and it snapped, and she had blue ink all over her hand, and she didn't even notice until she went to shake mine.

At dinner Daddy said Dee used to break pencils like that when he was trying hard not to cry.

Lyric asked if Uncle Dee is coming. Daddy said, "I don't know, baby. But somebody's looking."

Somebody's looking.

Tags: dee, DA, hope, daddy, somebody's looking

34 comments

grady_nurse_lo (Loretta Divine): I called her mama at the hospital. She's real, baby. She's real.

cascadecutz: first good news in 3 years. the whole shop is gonna cry tomorrow

E.O.S.: So proud of you. <3

anonymous: praying for your family from Decatur

BLACKPLANET FORUMS — Atlanta > Local News & Politics

Thread: MERRIWEATHER SENT THE COPS DOUGHNUTS?? LMAO

Started by WestEndWill — 01/06/2005 12:40 PM

WestEndWill: undertaker sent the stakeout car coffee and cream-filled doughnuts. i can't make this up

Mama_Dees_Biggest_Fan: that's old school. you feed your enemies so they know you ain't scared

HonestAbe_ATL: or you feed the police so they don't look too hard

SouthsideSaint_78: my cousin works at a car wash on RDA. he said somebody asked the owner today "did y'all do lamar" and the owner said "we don't do deacons"

ConspiracyKeith: "we don't do deacons." write that down. that's a sentence somebody practiced.

ATLien_4Life: keith every sentence is a sentence somebody practiced

ConspiracyKeith: EXACTLY

MYSPACE BULLETINS

From: GRACE BULLOCK — Jan 6 2005 8:05 PM

Subject: BIG NEWS (not yet tho)

Me and my cousin did something today that we've been dreaming about since we were kids. Can't say what. But it smells AMAZING. And it involves the most important woman in our family. Stay tuned. ;) — G

AIM AWAY MESSAGES (Thursday night)

MalloryO_Spelman: we got the book. we GOT the book. (too much vetiver, apparently)

HarmonyDivineRealty: somebody's looking.

KiaraB_BCA: mama called a lawyer named stanley. extremely belmont crest behavior.

Amond_B_Ops: out.

BRIELLEgetsitdone: boss watched one (1) frame of security footage for 40 minutes today. i am not paid enough to ask.

MarcAnthonyB: new book monday. dinosaur princess. i'll write it myself if i have to.

End of Media & Fan Layer, Episode #0004. Continued with Episode #0005 (Friday, January 7, 2005).